Hi! I am very happy today because I have a huge announcement! A new course is now available to help you with your pronunciation. And it's for all levels!

Visit: PronunciationCourse.com and get it now for a special price. I repeat: PronunciationCourse.com

Today, I'd like to talk about how this course can help you.

But first, let me ask you a question...

Have you ever been talking to a native speaker, and they interrupted you to ask, 'Could you repeat that?'

Hear me on this: It's essential to speak clearly so people don't struggle to understand you!

Yes, it's true that you can find traditional pronunciation courses, but they focus heavily on complex explanations, making them impractical. These programs are often designed by academics, making them too theoretical. Not everyone has the time or ability to learn all this theory from a linguistic perspective.

This is what you need: a proven system that works from day one and focuses on what will help you the most.

And let me tell you an important rule I had in mind when I created the course:

The 80/20 Rule

This rule, suggests that 80% of your improvement comes from focusing on just 20% of the areas that need the most attention.

What if we apply this concept to improving your pronunciation?

Practicing every single sound in the English language is inefficient. Instead, focusing on the specific areas that offer the greatest improvement makes the best use of your time.

As a teacher, I've identified the key aspects of pronunciation that students struggle with the most.

My course is designed to help you achieve quick results by targeting these crucial areas.

Work smarter, not harder!

Now, let me reveal one of the techniques I use in the Pronunciation Course:

Word Pairs

These are words that sound similar but have small differences, and let me tell you something: native speakers always pronounce them correctly, but English students confuse them all the time. Let me give you a few examples:

bad – bed
ship – sheep

Mispronouncing word pairs can cause confusion and even lead to awkward situations. Learning these sounds individually is challenging, but hearing and practicing them together makes the differences clear and easy to remember.

So, for example, if you hear:

"A ship is not built for a sheep."

You'll see that hearing both words in the same sentence helps you differentiate and pronounce the sounds correctly, like a native speaker.

In the course, you'll practice many word pairs, which will also help you with other English words with similar sounds.

Also, with the pronunciation course, you'll listen to informal contractions that native speakers use all the time. This will help you understand conversations in English better.

Here are some examples of informal contractions:

could have - could've/coulda
I don't know - I dunno
give me - gimme
going to - gonna got to or have got to - gotta
have to - hafta
has to - hasta
kind of - kinda let me - lemme

So, not only will you improve your pronunciation, but you will also:

UNDERSTAND conversations better.

This course will also help you to:

1. Recognize typical sounds and words of American English, even when they speak fast.
2. You will improve your comprehension by becoming familiar with the natural rhythm, intonation, and informal contractions.
3. Boost your confidence when having conversations.

And there's more! A great bonus: With the Pronunciation Course, you'll get custom advice based on your native language and where you live.

- African language speakers (Swahili, Bantu, Amharic, Semitic, etc.)
- East Asian language speakers (Mandarin, Japanese, Korean)
- Germanic language speakers (German, Dutch, Swedish, Danish)
- Middle Eastern language speakers (Arabic, Persian, Turkish, Hebrew)
- Romance language speakers (Italian, French, Spanish, Portuguese, Romanian)

- Slavic language speakers (Russian, Polish, Ukrainian, Czech, Slovak, Serbian)
- South Asian language speakers (Hindi, Urdu, Bengali, Tamil, Punjabi)
- Hellenic language speakers (Cypriot Greek)

Ah! Before I forget...

Yes, you will also practice with

Mini-Stories and Points of View

With the mini-stories, you'll improve your fluency using the "Conversation Simulator." Engage with a fun, interactive story with the adventurous Betty, the insecure Greg, and the honest Fred despite his bad reputation.

These mini-stories and points of view incorporate many of the words you've practiced in the course, allowing you to improve your pronunciation and fluency at the same time!
