

How to learn new vocabulary.

RULE #1

Always learn vocabulary in context.

A great way to learn grammar without studying rules.

What is grammar?

Grammar is a set of rules.
It tells us how to use the language.

✗ Grammar can be very difficult.

✗ There are many confusing ideas:

Prepositions, tenses, conditionals, passive voice...

✗ This is a big problem for many students.

✗ They study grammar for years,
but they still can't speak English well.

Don't study grammar rules.

Don't study grammar rules.

If you try to speak with grammar rules, you will feel slow, nervous,
and confused.

In your own language, you don't think about grammar.

You speak automatically.

That is your goal:

 Speak automatically and naturally.

Is grammar always bad?

- ✅ Grammar can help you with writing.
- ✅ You can also use it when you are not sure about something.

But... if you want to speak English,

✗ grammar rules will
not help you.

A simple and powerful technique:

The Point of View story.

First, the story is in the past.

Then, the same story in the future.

This helps your brain understand grammar without rules.

You hear how the verbs and words change.

And you learn naturally—just like a child!

We can also change:

First person → Third person

Singular → Plural

It's very easy. And it works!

In my Premium Courses,
I use this technique a lot.

You hear a story in the past.

Then, you hear the same story in the future.

The story is the same, but the grammar changes naturally.

It looks simple, but it's very powerful!

RULE #2

Don't study grammar rules.

Use the Point of View technique.

Tomorrow, I'll show you how to learn deeply—

so you can remember what you learn.
